

In the Claims:

Please amend the claims as follows.

Claim 1-24 (Cancelled).

Claim 25 (Currently Amended): An LCD panel comprising:
an insulating substrate defined as a cell region and a pad region;
a plurality of gate lines formed in the cell region;
a plurality of data lines crossing the gate lines and having alternately different extended lengths to the pad region, wherein alternately different extended lengths are also respectively at alternately and completely different levels above the insulating substrate; and data pads applying an electric signal to the data lines.